

SUMMER NEWSLETTER – 2010

Enjoy a summer break at the George Hotel, Yarmouth. Throughout the summer months our Brasserie with its water side garden is a popular Island destination – umbrellas are dotted across the lawn offering a perfect lazy summer afternoon hideaway.

Latest Hotel News – We extend a very warm welcome to Liam Finnegan who has taken over the role as head chef. Liam (aged 25) was previously Sous Chef at The Bath Priory and Gidleigh Park. He trained in Ireland at Jordan's Restaurant in Carlingford and at the Lime Tree Restaurant in Kenmare. He then gained experience at Mulcahy's in Kenmare followed by the Nuremore Hotel, Carrickross.

Liam has a passion for food which has been demonstrated not only by his career path but also the numerous awards that he has achieved in competitions during his short career, including a Gold Medal at the Irish Food Show in 2003 and a Gordon Ramsay finalist in 2008. Very good luck to Liam and his team.

Upgrade of Bedrooms – over the past few months many of our bedrooms and some of the public areas have been given a fabulous face-lift and they are all looking refreshed and smart. The interior design was co-ordinated by Steph Illsley who has sympathetically mixed fabrics, wallpaper and colours to create individual charm.

Diary Dates – Sat 31 July - Sat 7 August Cowes Week is probably the most well known of all Isle of Wight events, with around 1000 boats and 8500 competitors taking part in this world famous sailing regatta. With its exciting racing schedule and superb shore side activities, Cowes Week offers something for everyone. Don't miss the spectacular fireworks display on Friday Aug 6th starting at 9.30pm.
